Included at Brookside are several distinct areas: azalea garden, rose garden, children's garden, formal garden, fragrance garden, Japanese style garden and trial garden. Brookside Gardens also features two conservatories for year-round enjoyment.
- Enjoy an optional boxed lunch while you visit the Gardens today.
- Our second stop today is the United States National Arboretum. All 444 acres of the United States National Arboretum, located in Washington DC, is a living museum of trees, shrubs, and herbaceous plants, which are cultivated for scientific and educational purposes. Best known for its vast collection of azaleas, (Washington's favorite porch flower), this garden park has much to offer! Fountains, pools and open space separate a series of focused gardens. The National Bonsai Collection, a gift from Japan, is a fascinating exhibit of tiny trees. Other notable sections are the aquatic garden (filled with lotuses of many varieties) and the National Herb Garden.
